

NCJW WASHINGTON OFFICE

The NCJW Washington office serves as NCJW's presence on Capitol Hill and as a resource on advocacy and legislative issues. The Washington office:

- ▶ Monitors legislation, public policy, and the federal judiciary and advocates on behalf of NCJW's concerns;
- ▶ Represents NCJW on national coalitions;
- ▶ Works with Washington representatives of major Jewish and national organizations;
- ▶ Coordinates national legislative activities of the State Public Affairs Network;
- ▶ Provides resources to SPAs on federal, state, and local legislation;
- ▶ Publishes SPAction and other public policy publications;
- ▶ Coordinates NCJW advocacy programs and campaigns (e.g. Washington Institute and BenchMark), including educating, mobilizing, and activating NCJW's grassroots
